The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1866.

WE trust our Republican friends will bear in mind that a Republican Mass Meeting will be held in Allegheny THIS EVENING, in the Diamond. Eminent speakers from abroad are pledged to be present.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN in the Western section of the State was opened at City Hall last night, by one of the largest, most intelligent and enthusiastic public meetings ever held in Pittsburgh. In our local columns will be found brief abstracts of the speeches delivered by the distinguished and patriotic orators in attendance. Particularly worthy of attention are the words of MR. HAMILTON, the Provisional Governor of Texas. A keen observer, shrewd statesman and patriot, fresh from the homes of the "reconstructed" rebels of the South, his honest, fearless sentiments, statements and convictions should be carefully weighed by every thoughtful citizen. He knows whereof he speaks, and warns the unsuspecting people of the North of the manifold danger lurkings in the future of our Republic. Colonel FORNEY's speech is also worthy of careful perusal. If enthusiasm means popularity, the Colonel was among his friends last night, since he was received by the wildest of cheers and other gladsome manifestations from the audience. Such an auspicious opening of the campaign here, when so much has been done by Mr. JOHNSON and his political friends to weaken the ranks of the Union Republican party, augurs well for the future. We may now safely promise the gallant GEARY a much larger majority than was ever given any candidate in this, the banner county of the Union.

THE Conservative journals might as well understand that they can neither cover up nor excuse the President's complicity with the New Orleans massacre, by traducing the characters of the men prominent in the Constitutional Convention. They are the very men the President worked with in reorganizing the government of that State; and they represent the whole people now as actually as they did then. But this is not the material point. The question is not whether these men are good or bad; whether they had a legal function or were engaged in an enterprise without proper authority. The vital question is whether the President had a right to instigate or allow the rebels, under pretext of being peace officers, or aiding the police, to institute an indiscriminate massacre of loyal men, black or white. That is what the President did do. His coarse, brutal dispatch, in which he ordered the Conventionists to be put down, was just what the ruffians wanted. Behind it they sheltered themselves, and proceeded to their bloody work. In the light of developed facts, it will not do to say the extremity of force was necessary to suppress the assembly. A sheriff, with a warrant in his hand, could have marched all the delegates into court; a squad of police could have taken them all before the Mayor. Neither of these results were desired. The plot was laid for a massacre. In that plot the President stands as a central and ferocious figure. Reproaches by his friends upon the memory of the dead or the living Conventionists will not help his case.

IN THE 24th Congressional District, the Hon. GEO. V. LAWRENCE has been renominated without the formality of a Conference—all the counties concurring separately. The Democrats have not yet nominated; but they have apparently given up Col. LAZEAR, and incline to a Washington county man. It does not matter much who they bring out. The accounts that reach us from all parts of the district are highly favorable to the Republican interest. The Republican ranks are all firm and solid. The President and his Policy have not succeeded in creating any diversions. All the indications point to a result as satisfactory as two years ago. At all events there is every reason to believe that Mr. LAWRENCE will be returned by an undiminished majority.

MR. WM. B. THOMAS, Collector of Philadelphia, proposes to appeal to the courts to test the validity of his removal by the President. This step is held by the Conservatives and Democrats to be one of insolence and defiance. They assume virtually that the will of the President is law in this country. What response the courts will make to Mr. THOMAS's appeal is a different matter. No doubt they will give it the careful consideration its importance demands, and ultimately render such a decision as shall appear just and constitutional.

THE New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says the telegram from General SHERIDAN to General GRANT, as given to the public, was so mutilated as to do its author great injustice. A genuine copy is promised. We shall be glad of occasion to recant the opinions we expressed, supposing that telegram to be full and authentic.

A REPUBLICAN mass convention is announced to be held at Greensburg, in Westmoreland county, August 20th. Gen. John A. Logan, of Illinois, Hon. Wm. B. Stokes, of Tennessee, Hon. G. A. Grow, A. K. M'Clure, and John Covode, of Pennsylvania, are announced to be present.

THE State Central Committee held a meeting yesterday, at the Monongahela House, in this city, at which all the members were present. Further than the laying out of a programme for the vigorous prosecution of the Gubernatorial campaign, no business of importance was transacted.

IT is not settled that Dr. WORTHINGTON will be re-nominated for State Senator for Chester, Delaware and Montgomery District. Delaware is for him; but the other counties are contested by Dr. THOMSON and Mr. HENRY S. EVANS.

THE Village Record, speaking of Chester county, says:

> "The defection of President Johnson has had the good effect of cementing the party together, and of arousing it to a more zealous effort in behalf of our cause and its candidates."

COL. THOMAS FITZGERALD is likely to be the Republican candidate for Congress in the First District, against Mr. Randall, Democrat.

MAJOR LEWIS CASS has sold his house and furniture at Detroit, having resolved henceforward to reside in Europe.

From a Lady.

WEST MILTON, SARATOGA CO., N. Y.,
July 6, 1861.

DR. HOSTETTER—SIR: I have long delayed writing to you my sincere thanks for the good you have done my daughter. I can truly say that nothing but the kind hand of Providence and your BITTERS have saved her from an early grave. For three years I have been doctoring her with syrups and all kinds of bitters that have been recommended to me for her, besides having two first rate physicians; but all seemed to do her no good, while I was searching the almanacs and all the newspapers that I could get hold of, in hopes of finding something that would suit her case. Accidentally there came part of a newspaper around some goods that I bought at the Spa. In looking it over I saw at a glance that your BITTERS was just what she needed. I sent the next day to Ballston Spa and got a bottle of your BITTERS. She commenced taking them, and such a change in one week with her appetite, and the distress that victuals occasioned, and that burning in the Stomach, I never saw in my life as there was in her. She has taken three bottles, and is now able to work all the time. I think there is a little derangement of the Liver. Please send me three bottles more, which I think will cure her entirely. We and others thought she had disease of the heart, but that beating and fluttering that would almost stop her from breathing at times, is all gone.

Yours, with respect,
MRS. AMANDA McPHERSON.

Hostetter's Bitters

Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond and Market, near Fourth street.

Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

The trustees and faculty of the above Medical College have issued "scholarships" at seventy-five dollars each, which entitles the holders to attend lectures until graduation or as many sessions as he wishes.

This renders a medical education cheaper than ever proposed by any University or College in this country or Europe, possessing the same extensive facilities.

The facilities of the University are: First, it has the largest College edifice in the city: second, the best amphitheater and lecture halls in the United States; third, the best dissecting rooms; fourth, extensive chemical and philosophical aparatus; fifth, the materia medica embraces all the medicines used by all classes of physicians; sixth, the museum consists of a most extensive collection of anatomical and pathological specimens. In all, there are fifty-three rooms in the College.

There are sixteen Professors and every branch of Medicine and Surgery is thoroughly taught.

The student holding a "scholarship" can enter the college at any time during the Lectures, attend as long as he wishes, and re-enter the institution as frequently as desired.

Persons wishing to obtain scholarships can apply to L. Oldshue, M. D., Professor of Urino Pathology in the above-mentioned College. His office and residence is No. 132 Grant street, Pittsburgh Pa.

FROM NEW YORK.

Detectives Concerned with Counterfeiters—Man Burned to Death—Prussians and Austrians from America Seized and Pressed into the Ranks—Indians on the War Path—Gen. Sheridan's New Orleans Dispatches.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The Superintendent of Police has information leading him to believe that many of the detectives in this city are in complicity with counterfeiters. John S. Young, long in charge of the detective force, has been removed, and Inspector Carpenter put in his place. Full developments have not yet been made public.

At a fire, last night in De Kalb avenue, the stables of Herman Alpers were destroyed, together with two horses. Mr. Alpers was also burned to death while endeavoring to save his horses.

The purser of the steamer Baltic states that one of the seamen of that vessel was seized by the Prussian authorities at Bremerhaven as a Prussian citizen. He shipped in New York, and it is not known whether he was naturalized.

Mr. Henry Funk, late Mayor of Muscatine, Iowa, was also lately seized by the Austrian officials, while on a pleasure tour in Austria, and forced into the ranks.

It is stated that Governor Fenton has called the Supreme Court to meet in extra session on the 28th, to obtain a decision in regard to the constitutionality of the Excise law.

A Tribune Leavenworth special says the Indians on the borders of Kansas are on the war path, robbing and outraging the settlers in the most horrible manner. Troops have been sent for the protection of the settlers.

A Times Washington special insists that General Sheridan's dispatches from New Orleans have not been mutilated, as charged by the Tribune. He says the dispatches will be published in full and it will be seen that General Sheridan regards Mayor Monroe and his policemen as even worse than Dostie, Hahn & Co. He has, in all his dispatches, recommended the removal of Mayor Monroe.

Johnson Convention at Boston.

BOSTON, August 8.—The Johnson Convention, in Faneuil Hall to-day, is numerously attended by delegates from all parts of the State. Hon. Leverett Saltonstall was elected President. Among the Vice Presidents are Judge B. R. Curtis, Judge Abbott, Hon. George Ashman, Franklin Haven, General Couch, Charles Levi Woodbury, George S. Hillard, ex-Speaker Goodman, and others. Three hundred and fifteen towns are represented by 1,751 delegates.

Hon. Leverett Salstinstall, who presided, made an introductory speech, in which he urged that the full time had come for the people of Massachusetts to show their disapprobation of the measures of a disorganizing Congress. He predicted that if the question of restoration was left unsettled another year, another civil war would be precipitated, not between State and State, but in the North between individuals. The Reconstruction Committee had buried the hopes of patriotic citizens, but the national Union would resurrect them.

A series of resolutions was adopted.

Four delegates and four alternates were appointed for each of the two Congressional Districts.

The following delegates at large were appointed: Robert C. Winthrop and Judge Abbott, Isaac Davis, of Worcester; Gen. Couch, of Taunton; Gen. Sutton, of Salem; John Quincy Adams, of Quincy; George Ashman, of Springfield; E. C. Bailey, of Boston.

The alternates at large are: R. S. Spafford, Albert Fearing, H. W. Stevens, N. Starbuck, J. F. Redfield, Charles Kemball, Wm. D. Field, Waldo Colburn.

Queen of the Sandwich Islands in New York—Failure of Jeff. Davis' Health.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The Queen of the Sandwich Islands, who has been on a religious mission to England, is stopping at the Brevoort House, the guest of a special messenger of Secretary Seward, and will visit Washington before sailing for the Pacific.

The World has a Fortress Monroe letter which says: Mr. Davis has failed in health considerably since his visit previous to the one I speak of. This fact I have ascertained from a source as trustworthy as possible, and is next to the powers that be. Mr. O'Conor has himself expressed as much to a gentleman who exercises a great deal of influence here.

Indian Treaties.

OMAHA, NE. August 7.—Indian Commissioners just arrived from the Upper Missouri, report the treaty with the tribes on the Upper Missouri River, as being successful. Important land grants at the junction of the Yellow Stone and Missouri Rivers, and the right of way for the Northern Pacific Railroad, have been ceded by the Indians to the Government.

The National Express Company.

FORTRESS MONROE, Aug 8.—A bill has been filed in the Clerk's office of the Circuit Court of the United States by the stockholders of the National Express Company, asking an injunction against that company.

The Cholera at New York.

NEW YORK, August 8.—Nine new cases of cholera were reported in the city to-day, but no deaths except in the public institutions.

In Brooklyn fourteen cases and four deaths are reported.

New Jersey Delegates.

TRENTON, N. J., August 8.—A Convention was held here to-day to elect delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, which was largely attended.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 7.—Evening.—Cotton; sales of 7,000 bales; market flat.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Consols closed at 87¾.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Five-twenties, 68¾; Illinois Central, 75¼.

[Special to New York Herald.]

LONDON, Aug 6.—The King of Prussia has returned to Berlin. The Municipality presented to him a congratulatory address. In reply the King expressed his thanks. He pointed out that Prussia had drawn the sword not only for her independence, but for the reorganization of Germany. The first, said the King, has been assured. The second may, with the help of God, also be obtained. Everything promises a happy future for Prussia, as an honorable and lasting peace is imminent.

The King in person opened the Prussian Chambers, yesterday. The following is his speech in full:

"Illustrious, Noble and Loyal Gentlemen of both Houses of the Diet: Now that I see assembled around me the representatives of the country, my heart impels me to express, first of all, from this place, my own and my people's thanks for God's gracious goodness, which has assisted Prussia amidst heavy, but successful, sacrifices, not only in averting from our frontiers the ravages of hostilities, but in enabling the army of the country, by a rapid victory, to add fresh laurels to its inherited fame, and to smooth a course for the natural developement of Germany. Accompanied by the visible blessing of God, the part of the nation capable of bearing arms enthusiastically obeyed the summons to the sacred struggle for independence and fatherland. Our heroic army, supported by a few, but faithful allies, advanced from success to success, from victory to victory, in the east as in the west. Much precious blood has been shed, the country mourns the loss of many brave men who died heroes in the flush of triumph, until our standard waved along a line extending from the Corpathians to the Rhines.

"It will be for the Government and the representatives of the people in united co-operation to bring to maturity the fruit that must be gathered from this sanguinary seed, and prevent its being scattered in vain.

"Loyal gentlemen of both houses of the Diet, my Government is able to look with satisfaction upon the financial position of the State. Careful foresight and conscientious economy have placed us in a position to overcome the great financial difficulties which have resulted as a natural consequence from the circumstances of the present time.

"Although a material outlay was imposed upon the Treasury during recent years, by the war with Denmark, it has been found possible to meet the expenses hitherto incurred in the present war from the State revenue, and existing balances without imposing any other burthen upon the country than that of furnishing supplies in kind for war purposes that it is bound to provide by law. I hope, most assuredly, that the means required for the successful termination of the war and payment of supplies in kind, while maintaining order and security, in finance, will be readily granted by you. An agreement could be made with the representatives as to the settlement of the budget, which has not been able to be effected during the last few years. The state outlay, incurred during this period, is therefore destitute of that legal basis which I again acknowledge the budget can alone reach through the law, by which means the constitution of '50 ordains that it is annually agreed upon between my government and the two Houses of the Diet. Although my government has nevertheless carried on the budget for several years without a legal basis, this has only been done after consideration, examination, and with correctness, in accordance with the Diet. That the conduct of the administration, the fulfillment of legal obligation toward public creditors, and the official maintenance of the army and state establishment, were questions vital to the existence of the state, and that the course adopted, therefore, became one of those inevitable necessities which, for the interest of the country, the government must not hesitate to adopt. I trust that the recent events will in so far contribute to effect an indispensable understanding that an indemnity for our having carried on the administration without a law regulating the budget, application for which will be made to the representatives, and will readily be granted to my government, and the hitherto existing conflict be thereby finally and the more securely brought to a conclusion. As it may be expected that the political position of the Fatherland will admit of an extension of the frontier of the state, the establishment of a united federal army under the leadership of Prussia, the costs of which will be borne in equal proportions by all the members of the confederation, the bills required in this respect for the convocation of a popular representative federal state will be laid before the Diet without delay.

"Gentlemen, you know that our entire fatherland feels the high importance of the movement that brings me once more among you. May Providence bless Prussia as graciously in the future as it has visibly blessed the immediate past. May God grant it."

Prussia has positively declined the proposals of Russia for a Congress of the Powers which signed the treaty of Vienna.

The Colorado, Admiral Goldsborough's flagship, from Lisbon, arrived at Plymouth and sailed for Cherbourg.

The yacht Frolic, with the prize fighters, Mace and Goss, on board, has arrived. They fought for two thousand dollars. Mace won in twenty-one rounds.

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—The first sitting of the Chambers was held to-day. The members rose and cheered the King and the Prussian victories. Count Stolberg was elected President of the Upper House.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 7.—There is great enthusiasm here in reference to the visit of the American squadron. The Russian fleet has gone to Helsingbors to meet it.

Some of the principal Russian bankers have subscribed thirty million francs to complete the railroad from Keozler to Morschausren.

Renewed efforts are being made to sustain the interview of Russia with Prussia in behalf of the South German States. The Czar has not entered into an arrangement relative to the question as yet.

PESTH, August 6th.—Several political arrests have been made by the military here to-day. Similar arrests have taken place in other parts of Hungary.

DRESDEN, Aug 7.—Special peace negotations are about to be opened between Prussia and Saxony.

VIENNA, August 6.—It is expected that a definite treaty of peace will soon be signed by the Austrian and Prussian plenipotentiaries at Prague. Italy is not included. If the difficulty relative to the armistice with Italy is not arranged within a few days, hostilities will be renewed.

FLORENCE, Aug. 6.—The Italian and Austrian generals met at Cormons, in Austria, to negotiate.

France takes no part in the pending armistice.

Austria and Italy, if it can be arranged, will hold a seperate peace conference, with the concurrence of France, and it will probably meet in Paris.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN ADVICES.

The German War.

CHOLERA ON THE DECLINE.

ACCOUNTS OF ITS RAVAGES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The following additional news is by the steamer Java, which arrived here to-day:

The Patrie states that the French iron clad Toulon has been ordered to get ready for sea immediately; destination unknown.

Rumors are current, that if Frankfort does not pass the forced contribution immediately, the town will be entirely closed, and no one allowed to enter or depart.

The Italian Government have determined upon a full inquiry into the causes of their late naval defeat.

The Paris Bourse was firm at 68f80c.

British politics unimportant.

The cholera is decidedly on the decline in Marseilles. The whole number of deaths from the epidemic in that city up to July 22, was one hundred and thirty-five. It was peculiarly fatal among children, of whom one hundred and seventy-one died. In Amicus the number of deaths from cholera on Tuesday, July 20th, was twenty-two, and among them Dr. James, Secretary and Professor at the School of Medicine, and a number of the Sanitary Council of the place. The disease is on the increase in Holland. Up to the 5th of July there had been 1,118 cholera cases at Leyden, 568 at the Hague; 581 at Delft; 905 at Rotterdam, and 1,189 at Utrecht. Total, 4,329.

In the British Parliament, July 27th, the O'Connor Don called attention to the treatment of emigrants on board the steamers plying between Liverpool and New York, and drew a lamentable picture of overcrowding and deficient food on board these ships, tracing to these causes the recent outbreak of cholera among the emigrants. He mentioned the names of several ships on which a great mortality had taken place on their way from Liverpool across the Atlantic, and asked how it was to be accounted for that cholera had broken out in them, although when they went out on their voyage it did not prevail in England.

The vanguard of the Prussian forces under General Manteuffel, was in Baden territory on the 25th ult., and had advanced southward, after a successful engagement with the Baden and Wurtemberg troops, near Beachofsheim and Werbach. The whole army of the Main continued to advance in a southerly direction.

Popular demonstrations against Admiral Persano had been made at Ancona, on account of the naval engagement before Lissa.

Letters received from Venice state that the Austrians were removing the archieves and the books from the Libraries. The inhabitants looked with uneasiness upon the preparations being made by the Italian troops for the blockade and siege of the city. All communication with Venice was cut off on the 19th by General Mezzacapo.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times, writing on the 24th, says: Though the prospects of a prolongation of the armistice have increased, it would be a mistake to infer from this that peace was certain. All that Austria has conceded to is to withdraw from the Bund.

It is a matter of doubt whether the future Constitution of the south, as contemplated by Count Bismarck, will meet with the approval of his humbled, yet proud and untamed foe but it is not believed that even were the armistice lengthened to four or six weeks, it would materially assist the Imperial Government in creating a new army. Three of its most populous provinces are in the hands of the enemy. Venice has been ceded. Hungary is ripe for insurrection. The public movement in favor of Prussian supremacy is getting stronger and stronger. In Dresden a number of leading politicians, so long the avowed friends of Austria, have combined with the adherents of Prussia. Letters and articles advocating the same idea abound in the Wurtemburg and Baden press.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says the inhabitants of the country districts in Hungary display not the least inclination to serve the State as volunteers.

New York National Union Convention.

SARATOGA, 11 P. M., Aug. 8.—Messrs. Weed, Opdyke, Dean, Richmond, and others, arrived this evening. Full delegations are expected in the morning. The Democrats appear to be in the majority, and recommend Howard Nelson as temporary chairman, and G. B. Babcock as President.

One or two old barnburners, express fears that the Convention will be run by Weed and Prayn, in the exclusive interest of Seward, while on the other hand two or three apprehend that Richmond and Cogger are here to give it a positive democratic direction.

With those few exceptions, however, all the delegates express confidence that the proceedings will be perfectly harmonious and conducted with the single view of sustaining President Johson's restoration policy.

There is evidently on the part of the more prominent Democrats a determination to do nothing here to encourage any office seekers in their own ranks, and this is likely to prove a source of disappointment to a few present.

Spanish Maritime Regulations—Tax on Ferry Boats.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The United States Consul at Havana reports that under the Spanish decrees, heretofore, vessels of four hundred tons and over, and the larger class of steamers, cannot be placed under the Spanish flag unless owned wholly by Spanish subjects. The rule is now so far relaxed in favor of Cuba as to allow steamers for coasting trade to be introduced without tariff.

Secretary Welles desires it to be known that he is still in Washington.

The question of the liability of ferry boats to the payment of tax on gross receipts having been referred to the Commissioner, he has decided that they are required to pay the three per cent. according to law.

Base Ball.

The following is the score of games played yesterday between the second nine of the Enterprise Base Ball Club (partly composed of first nine) and the Hygeia Base Ball Club. The game was played on the grounds of the latter club, at Oakland Park, and was witnessed by a large concourse of spectators. The game commenced by the Hygeias going to the bat. At the end of the first innings, the score stood: Enterprise, 3; Hygeia, 0. This was owing to the splendid fielding of Enwer, the first base of the Enterprise, who made 3 fly catches. At the close of the second innings, the Enterprise had increased their score 1, making the game stand: Enterprise, 4; Hygeia, 0. Bets of five to one were now freely offered that the Enterprise would win. After the fourth innings, the Hygeias had it all their own way, the score at the close of the ninth innings standing: Hygeia, 29; Enterprise, 18.

A match game of base ball was played on the West Common, Allegheny, yesterday, between the Allegheny and Unknown clubs of that city. A large concourse of people witnessed the game, which terminated in a victory to the Unknown.

A new base ball club, having the title of Vigilant, was organized in the Seventh Ward a few days since. The following are the names of the officers elected: W. H. L. Kirk, President; Thomas M'Namee, Vice President; J. Sweeny, Treasurer; J. F. Rourke, Secretary. This club is composed of the right material, and ere long will no doubt be able to engage in a tilt with any of our local clubs.

Death of Lieut. James A. Dunlevy.

Lieutenant James A. Dunlevy died yesterday morning at the residence of his father, on Fourth street. He served with distinction throughout the war, as an officer in Knap's Battery, and in the battle of Lookout Mountain received a severe wound. By bravery in the field and courteous kindness to his command, he endeared himself to his comrades in arms, who will hear of his sudden demise with regret. There will be a meeting of the barregret—of which he was a member—at the Courthouse this morning at nine o'clock, for the purpose of paying a suitable tribute of respect to his memory. A general attendance is requested.

Pittsburghers Abroad.—The Philadelphia Bulletin, of Tuesday, says: "Mr. William F. Johnston, the newly appointed Collector of the Port, was in town to-day. This morning, accompanied by Mr. T. T. Deringer, he rode through the streets of the city. He has not yet presented himself at the Custom House, where he has been appointed to fill a vacancy that does not legally exist as yet."

REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING.

City Hall Crowded to Overflowing.

IMMENSE ENTHUSIASM.

Speeches of Gov. Hamilton, Col. J. W. Forney and Hon. L. W. Hall.

The Union Republicans of this city and vicinity assembled in large numbers at City Hall last evening, in response to the call of the County Executive Committee for a mass meeting. Before the hour designated, all the sitting room was appropriated, and ere proceedings began, the aisles and outside hall were well filled, also the gallery, whilst the stage was crowded with distinguished personages and prominent citizens.

The assemblage was called to order about eight o'clock by Capt. John H. Stewart, County Sheriff, who announced the following officers, which were accepted:

President—Hon. F. B. Penniman.

Vice-Presidents—Hon. Thomas M. Howe, Jos Walton, Esq., Joseph Dilworth, Esq., Col. Jas. M. Cooper, James Marshall, Esq., Col. George Gerst, Col. Joseph Kaye, Col. Wm. B. Negley, Alexander Bradley, Jared M. Brush, Esq., Dr. Hardtmeyer, E. F. A. Faulhaber, Esq., B. F. Pears, Esq., James B. Lyon, Esq., John F. Dravo, Esq., P. H. Lautman, Esq., Capt. Hugh S. Fleming, Adam Walter, Esq., Dr. Walter Fundenberg, Jos. Albeitz, Esq., Col. Wm. B. Neeper, H. Clarke, Esq., Crawford county; Hon. Wm. C. McCarthy, Hon. John Morrison.

Secretaries—Gen. A. L. Pearson, T. M. Bayne, and the Reporters of the Press.

On taking the chair Mr. Penniman said:

Gentlemen—I thank you for the honor of calling me to preside over your deliberations. As citizens of the United States, we are confronted with the fact that peace has dangers imminent as those of war. Two problems remain for us to solve. Shall the Rebellion, beaten on the field of battle, be allowed, under the plausible pretext of conciliation, to institute a counter-revolution, and re-establish itself in the seats of power at Washington, from which it was driven four years ago? Shall the Republic, surviving the perils of conspiracy and civil war, perish of discordant councils and divided purposes?

I have no misgivings as to the result. The unfailing wisdom and the invincible courage that have brought us thus far, will carry us safely through to the end. The loyal men of the nation have its destiny in their keeping, and they will not surrender the trust into other hands.

Pennsylvania will do her full share in the great work that remains to be done. Here and now, we inaugurate a discussion of principles and measures that shall spread to the farthest boundaries of the Commonwealth, enlightening loyal men on the vital questions at issue, animating their hopes, and confirming their patriotic resolutions. And this discussion shall go on until the authoritative judgment of the people shall consolidate, next October, in the election of General Geary as Governor.

SPEECH OF GOVERNOR HAMILTON.

At the conclusion of the President's remarks, and amid a spontaneous outburst of applause, Governor Hamilton came forward and said: After giving three hundred and fifty thousand of your bravest sons to fight for civil liberty and equal justice to all, and after having expended your millions of treasure to see the rebellion prostrate in the dust, you did not suppose that we would assemble here to-night to learn who are the victors, and who are the vanquished. For what did you pour out the blood of your kindred if it was not to perpetuate the Government and bequeath to our children the rich legacy of liberty that had been transmitted to us by our fathers? You doubtless thought that with the war all the great questions and issues on which, and for which, it was waged, would be settled. But, after four years of strife, we find that the old issue of State rights, for which the South battled, is still one of the day. This issue was settled by the result of the war, and in such a way that it can never be again resurrected. The General Government should be, and is, supreme. How many years is it since all the institutions of the country were overshadowed by that one of slavery. The interest of this institution was paramount to every other, and that of your coal and iron had to succumb to it. You never asked representation in the National Councils according to the number of tons of coal or iron you exported, and while the South denounced you as Protectionists, you allowed them the right to representation in their property. They had not only protection for their products, but votes for their chattels. The framers of the Constitution granted them this, and the speaker was not one of those to carp at the framers of that good and great law for doing so. It was conceded to the South at a time when the affairs of the first liberated Colonies were in a peculiar and embarrassing situation, which made this concession a necessity. Some years since there was not a citizen in the South, whose judgment was of any value, who did not believe that slavery was an evil and should be eradicated as soon as an opportunity arrived. But a new philosophy grew up in the South, which argued that slavery was not an evil and a note came up from South Carolina that it was not even morally wrong, and that by referring to the Bible it would be seen that slavery had existed in all ages and through all time. But what did the logic of the argument amount to? Because wrong and oppression had existed for a great number of years, was that any reason it should be deemed right? This philosophy culminated in the South exclaiming in arrogance that no human mind could conceive the benefit of freedmen until contrasted with slavery, and that the black slave must be placed side by side with the free white man, ere the world could form any idea of the beauty of freedom. This idea expanded into a principle, and as such controlled the whole fabric of government. And you, good, simple, people of Pennsylvania, submitted without a murmur. But there came a time when the people of the north demanded a voice in the law making power of the nation. Twenty-one millions of freemen placed one of their number in nomination for the Presidency, and that one, being an humble rail-splitter, believed that all men were born free and equal. The South declared they would not live with you, that they would set up a government for themselves, the corner-stone of which should rest on their pet institution. They did not separate from you because they recognized the fact that you intended to destroy that institution, but they saw that there was a conflict between freedom and slavery, and that you had determined to prevent the extension of the social curse into the territorial domain of the general government. Those slave-holding States had never been wronged by one legislative act, but in every contest in the halls of the National Legislature they were ever victorious, gaining every point and measure they asked. Notwithstanding all this, they declared war on the government, and endeavored to destroy it, in order to carry out their ideas and theories. It is useless to revive the details of the war which followed, and with which you are so familiar. But after all those years of strife and self-sacrifice, we have as yet gained nothing in return. We have a man at the head of the government who was selected from among the few loyal men of the South and elevated to his present position out of gratitude for his loyal course in the Senate, in opposing rebels at the beginning of the war. He had been persecuted for adhering to the Union, and denounced as a traitor by his former associates at the South. Did we have any reason to believe, after his experience and many promises that "treason should be made odious," that he would reward traitors by conferring on them his confidence and respect? Have we not a right to inquire how much he has done to fulfil this promise? You do not wish the Government to exercise all its power, but that those who were dragged into rebellion should be treated with magnanimity. You believe that what the President announced as his conviction, that the leaders should be punished in order to prevent future generations from following their example. If this doctrine is not right, then all laws made to punish crime are wrong. The object of law is not that the prisoner should be punished, but that others should be deterred from disobeying. We have a right to inquire whether it would not be better to have punished the leading traitors at the close of the war than to have filled the hecatombs of the south with hundreds who have since been killed, because this policy was not adopted. If to hang Jefferson Davis would not be a benefit to society, then it were better that he should escape. But if life and the welfare of humanity are the questions at issue, then it were better a thousand traitors were executed rather than that the innocent should suffer. (Cheers.) But it may be said, has Jeff. Davis not been punished? Has he not been imprisoned? How many of your sons and brothers has he imprisoned and allowed, even in sight of his parlor window, to rot piecemeal! When the speaker returned to Texas, as Provisional Governor, he was asked what the Government intended to do with the people of the South, if they would be allowed to remain there? The reply was, yes, as long as they obeyed the laws made by the Congress of the United States and all proclamations in reference to emancipation. They were told the government against which they had so erred was not vindictive, and to further illustrate the fact, the speaker, in his capacity as Governor, signed six hundred pardons, rejecting only sixteen, and they were persons who had during the rebellion been guilty of many murders. These pardons were signed under the belief that those soliciting them had determined to be good, law-abiding citizens in the future, their idol having fallen to pieces. But after a time, the President declared that white traitors alone should rule in the South, and that those who had attempted to destroy the government should now be taken into its confidence, and given its high places. The President had no authority to establish State Governments throughout the South. But, on the speaker's return to Texas he found anarchy prevailing everywhere, and in order to create a sense of security he accepted the position of Provisional Governor until the Congress of the United States should make stipulations under which the revolted States could be again admitted into the family of States within the Union. In the prize suits the Prize Court decided that all persons within the borders of the rebellious States were alien enemies and should be treated as such. The United States Supreme Court went farther, and decided that even the loyal residents of disloyal States were aliens, just the same as if they had lived in a foreign country at war with the United States. The South declare that, as citizens of the United States, we have not the power to treat them as alien enemies. But the Supreme Court has decided otherwise, and all must concur in that decision. In 1845, when the State of Texas was worn down by oppression at home and a series of Indian and Mexican wars, she sought protection from her natural mother, the United States, and begged to be taken into the family of the Union. Did the Government think Texas would be any benefit to her? What was the contract? Texas, with her population of 40,000 agreed to form one of the United States, at that time comprising 20,000,000, for which the United States promised her protection against invasion, either from a domestic or foreign enemy. In fulfilling that vow, the Government expended millions of dollars and carried on a foreign war at a tremendous expenditure of blood and treasure. In return for this protection, Texas gave up her place among the nations of the earth, her right to make coin and levy war. How did she fulfill her part of the contract? Why, one fine morning, she rebelled, and made war on the Government. This proved a failure, and yet she declares against being treated as an alien, because she is a part of the Government. But in the face of the civilized world, they stood as a conquered people, and the Government had a right to treat them as a vanquished enemy and dictate their mode of punishment. (Cheers.) But it is said they were "never out of the Union." This refrain is echoed from the White House and repeated by every office hunter and lickspittle in the land. (Applause.) If those persons had been in the South during the rebellion and declared that the eleven refractory States were "not out," they would not have escaped hanging. The Confederate States were a Government de facto, that is a Government for the time being. In their Congress they declared that they would not cease to wage war until Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky and Missouri should be included in their new government. We treated them as a government. We accorded them the right of belligerents, and General Grant, in his intercourse with General Lee, styled him a Major General in the army of the Confederate States. Foreign powers granted them the same rights, and recognized them as belligerents. Then, as we recognized them as a power at war with us, so have we the right to treat them as conquered alien enemies. When the speaker had assumed the Gubernatorial duties in Texas, it was to organize a government of some sort. This was in a time of war, and was eminently proper, and is so yet, for peace has not been declared. Congress is the only power that can make such a declaration, and not the President, by a flimsy proclamation. But there are those who declare that Congress has not the right to say under what restrictions those states shall re-enter the family of states. The President has attempted to white-wash blood-dyed traitors. To this the speaker had no objection, but did object to him saying who should, and who should not, vote in Louisiana. But the President had assumed this right, and all those who do not agree with him are called radicals, and persons desirous of giving the negroes a vote. The speaker did not wish to speak for the great Union party of Pennsylvania, but for himself, when he said that the sooner the Government is established on this principle of justice and equal rights to all, the sooner will peace and prosperity come again. (Cheers.) The speaker, while regretting that his education prevented him from being a particular friend of the negro, said he was willing to give him educational advantages that would determine whether or not he could become the equal of the white man. Thank God, the Constitution declares him free. But he is not free. Go to the South, and they will tell you that he is not a freed man, but a free nigger—that he can never be anything else; that this is a white man's government. You hear this as far North as your own Pennsylvania. The Constitution declares all who land upon our shores to be free, and protects them in that freedom, without respect to color or caste. The government, in an hour of peril, used the black man, and rewarded him with his freedom. If the Government does not intend to protect him in this boon, then it is guilty of the basest hypocrisy. Since the close of the rebellion, six hundred negroes had been brutally murdered in the State of Texas, and not one of the murderers has ever been arrested, or even publicly accused. And yet they say the negro is free, and should be satisfied. Would the Copperheads of the North call that freedom if such treatment was applied to them? Yet they claim to be friends of the Government, while even now they are at work making arrangements to hold a Convention in Philadelphia to destroy the party who saved the Government from destruction. This Convention is to be composed of "reconstructed" rebels—such men as murdered Dr. Dostie and his noble co-patriots in New Orleans. In speaking of the riots in New Orleans the speaker said he had known those twenty-eight men who composed that Convention, and better, truer or warmer friends of the Government did not exist. If they had no right to meet, then the Courts would decide all their acts null and void, and so their meeting could do no harm. After dwelling on the disloyalty that is everywhere apparent throughout the South, the speaker said: They have the presumption to say the Government shall not dictate terms to them—that they are "not out of the Union"—never have been, save when they had 400,000 men in the field shooting down your sons and brothers. But they were out of the Union, and hence the Government has the right, not only to dictate terms to them, but has a right to obliterate the old State lines. They have a right as conquerors, to do as they deem proper, unless Napoleon or Victoria step in and interfere in behalf of the conquered, and then it would be a question of might. The question before the people is, shall the South be allowed to regain their forfeited rights without giving sufficient assurance that they shall never assail the government again? We say they shall not have representation for any person who has not a vote—that such persons shall not be represented in the National councils when representation is denied them in the state assemblies. The President says this is too much. But it is not enough. Give every free man a right to protection and a voice in the government, and a lasting peace will be established, and our country will be honored as the first among the nations of the earth. After thanking the audience for their kind attention the speaker withdrew.

At the conclusion of the elaborate and patriotic address of Governor Hamilton, Col. John W. Forney was introduced by President Penniman to the audience. He was received with the wildest enthusiasm, and upon some member of the audience proposing three cheers for the "Dead Duck," they were given with a will and gusto that would have been sufficient to resurrect all the dead ducks of christendom.

SPEECH OF COLONEL FORNEY.

Colonel John W. Forney spoke substantially as follows:

That the friends of the Union are once more called upon to put down the traitors and Copperheads, and that these two congenial combinations, heretofore geographically separated, were to consummate and celebrate their formal union at Philadelphia, on the 14th inst. The rapture with which they were coming together was heightened by the fact that Andrew Johnson, whom they had assailed more foully than ever they traduced Butler or Stanton, or Holt, or Sumner, or Stevens, had consented to assist them in destroying the radicals and in helping them back into power. The prospect of this novel coalition had almost made these twin enemies of human freedom delirious with joy. Forgetting that "there is many a slip between the cup and the lip," they are unconsciously admonishing all true friends of the Government to shun their society and to denounce their plots. Within a little more than three months, stimulated by Andrew Johnson's promised aid, they have enacted scenes of barbarities on the old fields of their treason not surpassed by the atrocities at Fort Pillow, the fiendishness of Andersonville, and the horrors of Libby and Belle Island. No longer do they justify events under the stern necessities of war. The club, the knife, the torch, and the revolver are employed against the Union men of the South, white and black, under the smiling sanction of Presidential orders. That their hellish devices should fascinate the rebel and the Copperhead is natural, but that any citizen calling himself a Union man should not find in it a new motive for resistless devotion to his principles passes my comprehension. I can imagine the possibility of a poor brow beaten and hunted fugitive yielding to the lash of his master. I can imagine a Russian serf submitting to the brutalities of his merciless oppressors. I can even excuse the poor people of Hungary and Italy when they obey the mandates of their persecutors. But there is nothing in my philosophy to explain the course of a citizen, who calls himself a Republican, and who, with a record of Andrew Johnson's treachery, written in the heart's blood of the martyrs who fell at New Orleans on the 30th of July, submissively assists him, the Copperheads and traitors in the dark and deadly work they have in hand. It is said that the most delightful music in the ears of Jefferson Davis and his Cabinet was the shrieks and groans of Union prisoners in Libby prison. And it is recorded that when one of these poor victims of pro-slavery barbarity passed along the southern streets he was greeted with the derisive laughter of the southern chivalry. But what will be thought of a Union citizen who, reading the frightful story of the New Orleans tragedy, attempts to find in it a pleasing pretext for contact with treason, a delightful invitation to forget the principles he has sworn to support.

Col. Forney referred to the last words of the Union hero, Dr. Dostie, wounded on the 30th of July, and who died on the 1st of August. "Let the good work go on," said the dying patriot. Struck down and slaughtered only because he refused to act with the traitors around him, his example and his invocation will be remembered in all coming struggles. Even pro-slavery ingenuity does not claim that the good man and his high-souled compatriots provoked violence and death. They met to discharge a sacred duty, and under the shield of a sacred privilege. They fell bravely at their posts, and although no word of sorrow at their fate, and no syllable of rebuke to their murderers, came from the heartless ingrate in the Presidential chair, yet, from one extremity of the continent to the other their memory will be embalmed and their example revered. How horrible is the transformation between the savage indifference which disregards such a crime as this, and the well acted emotion which, at the bedside of the martyred Lincoln, a little more than a year ago, proclaimed that "treason is a crime, and traitors shall suffer its penalties; and what may be mercy to the individual is cruelty to the State." The blow that struck down Dostie was not more fiendish than that which robbed Lincoln of his life; and although it may preserve the consistency of an execrable traitor to his country and principles, it proves how seriously he has forgotten the pledges almost at the side of the bleeding body of Lincoln, by his callous contempt over the unnatural rejoicing at the death of Dostie. Yet he will find that the American people have gathered new vengeance and new vigor from this last evidence of pro-slavery ingratitude and barbarity.

Col. Forney spoke at length upon the issues involved in the great contest, and then referred to the prospect of the Union party in the coming election. He appealed earnestly to the people of Western Pennsylvania to be up and doing, and stated that the Union men of the eastern counties were actively at work. In his defense of the course of the radicals in Congress, and his allusions to the record of General Geary as Governor of Kansas, in 1857, and his gallantry in the war against the rebellion, he was loudly cheered. We regret we cannot give a more elaborate report of his remarks.

HON. L. W. HALL'S SPEECH.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, Mr. Hall declined entering into an extended argument, but he took the position that Mr. Clymer, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was a disloyal man, and so proved by numerous votes given by him in his capacity as State Senator. General Geary, on the other hand, had demonstrated his loyalty and patriotic devotion by privations endured, by wounds incurred, by perils braved, all through the war. With such men to choose between, the decision of loyal men ought not to be difficult or doubtful.

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Hall's remarks the meeting gave three tremendous cheers for General Geary and adjourned.

The Colored Men in Council—State Equal Rights League.

Pursuant to call the Pennsylvania State Equal Rights League, acting under the jurisdiction of the National League, assembled in Convention, yesterday, at ten o'clock A. M., at the Wylie Street A. M. E. Church, President William Nesbit, of Altoona, in the chair, and Mr. Jacob C. White, Jr., of Philadelphia, in his place as Secretary.

After roll call, the meeting was formally opened by singing and prayer by Rev. Jos. A. Nelson, of Philadelphia.

After the appointment of Committees on Credentials, Finance and Business, the League adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock P. M.

The following is the Business Committee: Allegheny county—Rev. G. B. Vashon; Bedford—Wm. T. Burks; Berks—Aaron L. Still; Blair—John Alexander; Bradford—William Cooper; Bucks—William A. Barley; Cambria—Samuel F. Jackson; Chester—John Welch; Chester—Jonathan Fetts; Cumberland—Andrew G. Washington; Dauphin—George W. Sanders; Fayette—Henry W. Arnett; Franklin—Moses Anderson; Huntingdon—James H. Gant; Lawrence—Lemuel B. Stewart; Lycoming—Enoch Gilchrist; Northampton—William E. Welch; Philadelphia—William D. Foster.

The League met at 3 P. M., and continued in session until five—the business transacted being of a preliminary character—when an adjournment was had until eight p. m.

In a New Place.

Mr. James Wiggins, who formerly held forth at the "El Dorado" saloon, has gone into the hotel business, having become associated with Mr. Adolphus Ludwick, in the proprietorship of the "Park Exchange," corner of Second and Grant streets. The house which is conceded by all hands to be a "necessity," (Court parlance,) is being refitted throughout, with a view to fulfill the requirements of a second-class hotel, and we are pleased to note the fact, for the reason that from the character of the gentlemen named, it may confidently be expected that accommodation in every way will be afforded, [illegible] since,) and the general [illegible] made by Mr. Edward Lynch, [illegible] Grant street.

United States District Court.

Hon. Wilson McCandless on the Bench.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 8.—Willoughby Opp, indicted for passing a counterfeit twenty dollar National Bank Note, at a saloon in the city, in February last, was placed upon trial, and the jury acquitting him, was discharged by proclamation.

John Haggerty, indicted for passing $50 counterfeit national money upon a farmer in Greene county, was placed on trial. The case was not concluded at adjournment.

Death of Jas. A. Dunlevy, Esq.—We are pained to announce the death of our esteemed fellow citizen, James A. Dunlevy, Esq., a member of the legal fraternity of this city. The deceased was a gentleman of marked ability and was deservedly esteemed by all with whom he had an acquaintance. The possessor of the [illegible] with natural talents, he was an ornament to the legal profession. His funeral takes place at nine o'clock this morning.

Mass Meeting in Allegheny.—To-night, at the Diamond square, Allegheny city, will be held a Union Republican Mass Meeting—the inauguration of the campaign upon that side of the river. Among the distinguished Pennsylvanians announced to address the meeting are Hon. L. W. Hall, Speaker of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, Col. Jordan, of the State Central Committee, and Hon. W. Kountz. Let there be a full turn out of the loyal masses.

Theatricals Going to Wellsville.—A number of artistes, well known in the city, some of the most talented in the stock profession, propose giving theatrical entertainments at Aten's Hall, Wellsville, Ohio, under the direction and management of Mr. Harry Overington, on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Not at Home.—Alderman Strain has gone on a trip East, and though being present at the "National Union Convention" at Philadelphia. Business appertaining to the office of Alderman can be obtained of Mr. C. B. Strain, who will be in daily attendance until the return of the Alderman.

DIED.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The soundness of Public Opinion throughout the loyal States, on the great matters at issue between the President and Congress, can in no other way be more accurately guaged than by considering the course of such Republican newspapers as recently plumed themselves on a reputation for Conservatism.

As soon as the President's Policy was developed, these newspapers—misconceiving the whole drift of sentiment and purpose in the Republican ranks—commenced caviling and grumbling at Congress; at its determination to examine fully before acting, which was construed into hesitation and delay; at the contrariety of opinion necessarily prevailing among its members, which was construed to imply ignorance and faction; at the appearance of vacillation or uncertainty, resulting from a willingness to placate the President, which was held to conclusive of timidity and weakness; and at almost everything else it did or failed to do. Presently their newspapers went farther, and espoused the President's Policy. They dilated on the wisdom of the Executive; extolled the excellence of conciliation, after a fashion that showed they wanted to meet the wishes of the rebels and not of loyal men; and depicted in glowing colors the era of fraternity and good-will they descried approaching as the result of restoring red-handed and unrepentant traitors to their forfeited right and to seats of honor and influence in the government.

All this while, however, it was manifest they had an eye to business. They stipulated for departmental patronage for their respective advertising columns, and for participation, in the persons of their conductors and friends, in official preferment. Herein they miscalculated. The President and his intimates failed to discover that they made any impression on the current of public opinion, which evidently rolled on in its accustomed channels with as full a volume as before, notwithstanding these efforts to divert it. Conservative arguments, denunciations and appeals—such as they were—went by as idle wind. For five years, the masses of the loyal population had been thoroughly in earnest, not simply to put down the rebellion, but to annihilate, as far as possible, the predisposing causes thereto, so that the people being harmonious in the general tone of their feelings and purposes, might really be at peace. Hence, these people were not in a mood to embark in a counter revolution. As these newspapers made no impression on the people, favorable to the President and his schemes, but rather contributed to the unpopularity of both, they were rated at small value by the dispensers of patronage, and their pretensions contemptuously put aside. In this their pride and cupidity were alike aggrieved.

They instantly sat about searching for pretexts on which to withdraw from the support of the President, and take sides with Congress and the loyal people. Where reasons are so earnestly desired, it is easy to find them. Strong desires are great sharpeners of mental vision. Soon these newspapers found what they wanted, and started in full cry against the President. Their zeal is consuming, and allows them no time for rest and relaxation. Conscious of having fallen under popular suspicions, they are striving by present heat and acrimony to make up for past deficiencies. In comparison to their bitterness against the President, the bitterness of the radicals is sweet as honey. Nor do they stop at the President. They cover the Philadelphia Convention with gall, as a nest in which fresh treacheries to Liberty and the Union are to be hatched; and speak defiantly of so many of their late Conservative associates as have not followed them in their new departure as "rebels," or "murderers."

All this fury, as we judge, does not find its impulse in settled and solid convictions on matters of a public nature. It is the tribute that Hypocrisy, and Perfidy, and Self-interest, pay to an enlightened and consistent Public Opinion, that can neither be corrupted nor intimidated, but keeps steadily on its way to the grand consummation, and compelling the Venal and Depraved to do it homage as it marches to final victory.

EUROPEAN WAR.

The news from Europe is so vague and loose, the dispatches through the cable sometimes so conflicting with the dispatches through the steamers, that it is very difficult indeed to get clear views of the situation. Peace and yet no peace, inactivity of the armies and yet no inactivity, negotiations progressing satisfactorily and negotiations in danger of being broken off, —that is the maximum compositum; which we are expected to swallow more or less each day. It is like a dinner, where the manager has forgotten to serve some courses, and, where, recollecting his forgetfulness, he brings the peas and sausages after the cheese and coffee. We are just chewing a half report concerning the suspension of hostilities, and all at once the waiter serves us a big battle, with a profusion of fresh blood about it. A battle now? my friend, that is simply impossible. Look at this news. It's right, sir, the manager made a slight mistake. The battle is somewhat stale; only two weeks old. Now this is provoking and we shall for the benefit of our readers, and for our own, endeavor to bring order into the chaos. Peace negotiations are progressing. That is a matter of fact; nor does it only affect Prussia, Italy and Austria, leaving the Southern States of Germany in the cold. Only it took some time, to communicate with all the wings of the army, and hence the conflicting news concerning battles fought after the 23d, the day of the armistice. Thus there was a battle raging in Hungary, near the city of Pesth. The Prussians had turned the flank of their foes; one of their brigades were in the rear of the Austrians and they would have achieved a most signal victory, if the news of the armistice had not ended the fighting. In Bavaria the Prussians by rapid movements succeeded in securing excellent positions, before the news of the armistice arrived. Sometimes a little tardiness is quite acceptable, and we have known instances where persons succeeded, without much difficulty, in retarding the progress of a vehicle, if that suited their purpose. We do not accuse the Prussians of foul play, by any means; but simply hint at possibilities that have occurred before this. Of the progress of the Prussians in southwestern Germany we are not definitely informed. After defeating two corps of the Confederate army in rapid succession, with forces inferior in number to both corps mentioned, the Prussians, under Falkenstein, drove their enemies south of the line of the river Main, which divides Germany in North and South, laid siege to the Federal fortress of Nentz and marched on Frankfort. Frankfort trembled at the approaching victorious foe, and well it might, for nowhere in Germany had the Prussians received more ignominious treatment, at the outbreak of the war, than just at Frankfort. Abuse and slander were heaped upon the few Prussians present, and even their lives were imperilled, and they had to take to to flight. Yet, on the whole, the Prussians conducted themselves in Frankfort with the same moderation by which all their transactions on hostile soil have been distinguished. No sensible person will believe the report that Falkenstein asked 25,000,000 of florins and threatened pillage in case of refusal. To be sure the unfortunate city had to pay a ransom of 5,000,000 of florins; but this she was capable of doing, and it may have the salutary effect on her which an occasional cupping has on a passionate man.

The Senate had lost all power of government, and so individual Senators selected by the Prussians represent at present the Executive Power. The Diet had, as a matter of course, fled long ago, to proceed to Augsburg, in Bavaria, but had left to the city a dangerous present in the shape of a line of redoubts, constructed by its authority and paid for out of its pockets. If it had had the means to place soldiers in these fortifications, Frankfort might have fared worse than it did, and been treated like a fortified city; for to tell the truth the Prussians were out of patience with the haughty patricians of that Federal City. We are curious how the matter between Rothschild and Prussia will end; he paying out the federal money to their enemies and Prussians entering protest. It is hard to catch a slippery eel like ROTHSCHILD; but as Prussia has various loans from him, we suppose it might find a vital spot to touch him.

From Frankfort the Prussians seem to have made victorious progress southward, and are reported in possession of Heidelberg and Stuttgard; but we are confident these movements were all made before the 23d of July, and at present the armies are all of them stationary. And will these negotiations lead to peace? We think so. Their very acceptance by Austria is our guaranty for this assertion, for if she had had the slightest chances of success left, she would not have accepted them. She writhed and twisted in terrible agony until she consented to swallow the bitter pill—the bitterest ingredient of which is undoubtedly her exclusion from Germany. After that splendid move of hers, as some will call her cession of Venice to France, but others her treason to Germany, she had high hopes of regaining several of the points lost; but Austria is as unfortunate in political intrigues as in strategical measures in the field. The move was a fine one, but FRANCIS JOSEPH had foreseen certain drawbacks which spoiled the calculation. We say only FRANCIS JOSEPH, for NAPOLEON now claims openly, never to have entertained any other views, than those which he exhibits now, and which are in perfect keeping with the Prussian ones. That man has a facility for lying and swallowing his previous statements that is perfectly refreshing in this hot summer weather, and ought to make him immortal, if nothing else would.

PERSONAL.

—Wm. J. Florence has returned from Europe.

—Edwin Booth is enjoying the sea breezes at Newport.

—The Board of Trade of Richmond have purchased an easy chair for Jeff. Davis.

—Hacket, the greatest living John Falstaff, is at Jamaica, L. I., spending the vacation.

—English papers say that Ristori is to receive $100,000 for one year's engagement in the United States.

—Gideon Wells, Secretary of the Navy, is spending a short time at the Nauyaug House, Mystic Island.

—Generals Anderson, Cullum, Parke and Wiers are at Newport, R. I. General Grant is expected there daily.

—The wife of John C. Breckinridge, now in Canada with her husband, lately presented him with twins.

—Mrs. Peter Orris died at her home some weeks since, in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, aged 105 years. So reports a Tuscarawas county paper.

—Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, it is stated, will remain at his iron works, Adams county, Pennsylvania, for several weeks, for recuperation.

—Augustus Buislay is to make trapeze ascensions from Boston in a Mongolifier fire balloon. He saved his neck on the Fourth by plunging into the Hudson.

—United States Senator Ross, of Kansas, is only thirty-seven years of age. When a boy he was an apprentice in the office of the Sandusky (Ohio) Mirror, a Democratic paper published by his brother.

—Professor Mills, of Wabash College, is making an effort for the establishment of a Mount Holyoke Seminary in the Wabash Valley. Mr. Rose, of Terre Haute, has offered $75,000 if it is located in that city.

—Carl Schurz, of the Detroit Post, condenses the Blair family in this wise: "The Blair family, consisting of the senior Francis, the junior Francis and Montgomery, is the three-headed Cerberus stationed at the entrance to the executive mansion, demanding a sop from every political party that seeks an entrance. It is a trinity of superannuated shrewdness, precocious conceit and vanity, soured by disappointed ambition."

—The oldest surviving graduates of Yale College are Hon. Ezekiel Bacon, of Utica, N. Y., and Rev. Jeremiah Day, D. D., of New Haven, of the classes of 1794-95. Sixty-nine deaths of graduates are reported last year, among whom are W. B. Calhoun, of Springfield, and Rev. David Green, of Westborough. The value of the various bequests made to the College by the late Augustus B. Street, will amount to about $300,000.

—Cobb's Island, situated on the coast of Northampton county, Va., eight miles distant from the main land, and about twenty miles north of Cape Charles, is said to be one of the most attractive on our coast, and admirably adapted in its situation and resources for a watering place. Capitalists in Baltimore are understood to have offered $100,000 for the property, with a reservation to the elder Mr. Conn of such portion of it as may be necessary for his residence. The old gentleman settled on the Island when a young man, buying it then for $150 in money and fifty sacks of salt.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Many blacks are leaving Mobile for Liberia.

—Queen Victoria continues to be the subject of much scandal.

—Three thousand six hundred dogs thus far drowned in New York.

—Eleven cents a day is considered good pay for shirt makers in New York.

—Pancakes made of grasshoppers, seasoned with rum, is the latest dish of Paris.

—A returned digger was drugged in a tavern in St. Louis and robbed of $7,000—in gold, last week.

—The population of Milwaukee, Wis., in 1846, was 1,750 souls; in 1865 the inhabitants numbered 55,640.

—Upwards of one million dollars have been invested in new buildings at Leavenworth, Kansas, during the present year.

—A peculiar religious movement is on foot in Maine. A large colony is said to be forming to emigrate to a new home in Jerusalem.

—Over $300,000 has been received at Portland, Me., in aid of the sufferers by the late fire, including $11,013 from St. Johns, N. B.

—Miss Schuler of St. Louis got up in her sleep and walked out of a second story window—falling thirty feet. She was but slightly injured.

—The New York Board of Health is still quarrelling over the question whether homœopathic physicians shall be admitted to the hospitals.

—Mons. Lamercier and wife while bathing at Long Branch, New Jersey, had $14,000 in U. S. coupon bonds and a $10,000 set of diamonds stolen from their room at the hotel.

—At Chicago, on Saturday, a white woman named Gould, whose husband is a negro, in a fit of anger, set fire to her house, which was destroyed. Her infant perished in the flames.

—There exists at Rome secret work rooms of sculpture, where the works manufactured are arms, heads of the gods, feet of satyrs, and broken torsi—of nobody. By means of a liquid there used, a color of the finest antiquity is communicated to the marbles.

—The population of the eight principal cities in the kingdom of Italy at the beginning of this year, is thus stated in a recent official document: Naples, 447,065; Turin, 204,715; Milan, 196,109; Palermo, 194,463; Genoa, 137,986; Florence, 114,363; Bologna, 109,395; Messina, 103,324.

—The St. Louis (Mo.,) Democrat informs us that the wharfs of the city are to be extended north and south along the whole river front, and that probably at no distant day St. Louis will have a continuous wharf seven miles in extent. Various harbor improvements also are about to be made.

—Some nine years ago the scheme for tunnelling the English channel, so as to connect France and England, was made public by its projector, M. Gamond. Now it is again brought forward. The distance to be tunneled, including five miles outside of the water on each shore, will be about thirty miles.

—It is estimated that the amount of money realized from the sale of goods seized on the northern frontier by customs officials for violation of the revenue laws during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1866, will exceed the necessary expenses of maintaining the system established by the treasury department by about $150,000.

—The long contemplated monument in memory of Hon. David C. Broderick, once United States Senator from California, who was killed in a duel with the notorious Judge Terry, several years ago, is now completed, and will be erected, surmounted by a fine bust, in Lone Mountain Cemetery, San Francisco. It cost $15,000.

—Lightning last week struck a house in West Duxbury, Mass., rendering senseless two ladies. One of them failed to immediately recover, though every effort was made to restore consciousness; but while the body was being prepared for burial, the chest heaved with a gasp; and efforts were renewed which resulted in subsequent recovery.

—An affecting scene took place in a colored church in Richmond, Va., last Sunday. A letter was read out in church, asking for information of a mother by a daughter, who had been sold South thirty years ago, under the old slave regime. Mother and daughter were both in church at the time, and fled to each others embrace with tears of joy.

—A son of Mr. Robert Macey, of Preston Hollow, Albany county, was struck by lightning on the 28th, and instantly killed. He was loading hay at the time. The lightning struck him on the left side of his face, crossed the breast to the right side, and thence down the leg, tearing the boot clean from the right foot. The deceased was only 15 years of age, and was an only son.

—The capital of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, when the cable is in final working order, will be £600,000, or say in round figures, $4,000,000. The Government of the United States and Great Britain give a subsidy between them of $175,000 a year, and the cable having passed four thousand words in twelve hours may be held capable of passing messages which, at the charge as at present fixed, will yield an income of about three millions of dollars.

Showers of Frogs—A Puzzle for Professors.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—There is a natural phenomenon which I have frequently observed, and which I have been unable to find any one who could explain in a satisfactory manner. This problem occurs in warm weather—after copious showers, and is in the form of innumerable small frogs. Not in ponds, or streams, or near water, but in fields, gardens, or high hills, and in streets far removed from any body of water.

This occurred after the heavy rain of last Thursday afternoon. I reside on Cliff street, and in the evening as I was returning home, accompanied by a scientific friend. When we came to the intersection of Fulton and Prospect streets, we first observed in the street, and on the sidewalks, in all directions, quite a number of very diminutive frogs leaping about as lively as crickets in a woodpile. We both halted to observe the singular sight, and immediately I asked, "From whence came they?" He replied. "They rained down." "But do you think that is the fact, or is it only the teaching of childhood? I remember, when a boy, to have received the same instruction, but I have been incredulous of its truth for many years." My friend replied "Yes, I think it is true." Then I asked, "How then did the frogs get into the clouds? for we know the clouds are formed by evaporation and the rays of the sun are not strong enough to draw up frogs?" "No, but they are blown up," he replied. "If you mean that they were lifted up by a whirlwind or waterspout, (I once saw one on the ocean,) then I ask, where, in any body of water, could there have been such a collection to have been drawn up? And, besides, if drawn up, would they not be rendered torpid by the cold in the regions of the clouds or be killed by their fall, and these are very lively. If I could see them falling, or could find them on the house top, I might believe it." It was not a clear case.

As we advanced up Fulton street the number of frogs increased, and seemed as numerous as grass-hoppers in a stubble field. We could hardly walk without treading on them. So on Cliff street; they were everywhere; and on these two streets there must have been several thousands.

I thought over the subject during the night, and remembered that the frogs were perfect in shape, and the body only one half inch long. The next morning I got one, examined it carefully, and found it perfect in form and in color, and in general appearance like our common small sized water frogs—perhaps not quite so green. Then I also remembered that frogs are propagated in water, much the same as fish, and that in the first state of life they are not frogs, but "tad-poles" or "polywogs." Then by the subsequent addition of legs they change from their fishy appearance, but still retain the tail, until at a later period the tail seems absorbed by the body and entirely disappears, when the frog is fully developed and appears in all his glory.

But here is a fact to be noted. I never saw a water frog whose body was without a tail, until it was several times larger than these diminutive "rain frogs" which had no tail, or any appearance of ever having had a tail. Then these questions naturally suggest themselves: Are not these "rain frogs" a different species from our common frog, and do they ever develop a larger body? If so, then where are they before the rains, and what becomes of them after the rains? If not, then, whence come they and where are they propagated? Will some of your learned readers answer?

H.

A New Blackmailing Dodge.

A few months since a young married man of this city who has acquired a reputation for being "fast," started on a pleasure tour for Wheeling, taking with him a woman whose reputation for sometime back has been under a cloud. On arriving at Bridgeport they engaged a hack and proceeded across the suspension bridge to a large hotel on Monroe street.

Here they remained for two weeks, the landlord supposing them to be husband and wife, as recorded on the register. How they enjoyed themselves can be roughly guessed at, when it is stated that their bill in that time amounted to $75. Wishing to change their base, and not having sufficient funds to settle the landlord's claims, they determined on a ruse by which they hoped to raise the needed supply. The fertile brain of the lady was more than a match for the situation, and in a few hours she had concerted a plan of campaign which embraced the following scheme: A son of the proprietor of the hotel was induced to go into the chamber occupied by the tourists and encouraged by the smiles of the damsel, he attempted to kiss her. But just as he was about to consummate his designs, the supposed husband who had been lying in wait, bounded into the room, and confronted the intruder.

A scene followed in the midst of which, the landlord entered. Annoyed beyond measure, and fearful that the reputation of the house would be damaged by the occurrence if they would gain publicity, the landlord offered to give the injured husband a receipt in full for all his expenses incurred while at the hotel. Seeing how admirable the scheme was working, the pseudo husband still refused, and expressed a determination of making the matter immediately known to the authorities.

This had the effect of drawing an additional check of $100, making in all $175, which the fast young man placed in his pocket, and returned to this city.

The above we received from a source that will not admit of doubt as to its veracity, and the proprietor of a certain hotel on Monroe street, in Wheeling, will recognize the circumstance, and he will now have a full knowledge of the manner in which he was "beat."

Unemployed Freedmen.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—By late papers we notice a want of laborers on the farms of the north and west, and take the liberty to inform the public that in co-operation with the Freedmen's Bureau, the National Freedmen's Relief Association for the District of Columbia are assisting large numbers of unemployed freed people to find good homes, and compensating labor on farms in the northern and eastern States, and if offices in the principal cities of the west can be opened to receive and distribute them, with an office fee paid by the employer for this purpose, we can forward an almost indefinite number of faithful laborers, now dependant for want of employment. Fair compensation and kind treatment are required of employers. Thus far entire satisfaction to both parties have resulted from the enterprise.

S. J. BOWEN, Pres't. N. F. R. A., D. C.
J. S. GRIFFING, Agent.

The Great West.

The rapidly increasing travel towards the West and Northwest is calling for increased information upon all subjects connected with that section of the country. Amongst other works upon the subject is a valuable one, now in preparation by Edwards, of St Louis, Mo., which will be of great benefit and convenience to business men, emigrants, travelers, &c., through the United States and Europe. It is a descriptive Gazetteer and Commercial Directory of the Western States, embracing Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. It will contain over 1,500 pages, with numerous maps and engravings, and will cost upwards of $20,000 in its preparation. Those interested in the trade of the Great West, should be represented in this great work.

Full particulars of this enterprise will be found in their advertisement in another column. Messrs. Gould & Soards have been appointed Agents for this city.

Second Ward School.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Second Ward School, on Tuesday evening, resignations were received and appointments of teachers were made: The resignations of Miss McFadden, teacher in male intermediate department, and Miss E. J. Nichols, in female intermediate department, were received and accepted. The Board then promoted the following: Miss Jane B. Wilkison, teacher in the male intermediate department: Miss Annie Curry, female intermediate department; Miss E. Shepiar, female senior primary department; Mis Jennie B. Allen, male senior primary department. The following teachers were elected: Harriet N. Lewis, male junior primary department; Annie D. Marshall, female junior primary department. At the previous regular meeting J. Allen McCrum was elected principal, Mary Jane Thompson, teacher in female grammar department, and Belle M'Clain teacher in male grammar department.

Camp Meeting.—The committee appointed by the trustees of the Tarentum camp ground will meet the lot holders, and those who desire to secure tent room, on the ground, to-day. Trains will leave the Allegheny Valley Railroad depot at seven o'clock, for the purpose of enabling parties to reach the grounds. Excursion tickets can be secured by making application to the committee, at the depot. Ample preparations have been made for the reception of visitors.

Stealing at a Fire.—A man named Michael Conlan was detected in the act of stealing empty oil barrels from the premises of Wormser, Meyers & Co., during the fire at their refinery near Lawrenceville on Monday night. After a hearing before the Mayor, Conlan was committed for trial. Quite a quantity of barrels are supposed to have been stolen.

The Attention of members of Knap's Pennsylvania Battery, and all other soldiers, is called to the funeral of Capt. James A. Dunlevy, which will take place this day at nine o'clock, A. M., from the residence of his father, on Second street below Market, in this city.

Committed.—Frank Kenkle was before Justice Barker of South Pittsburgh, to answer a charge of surety of the peace, preferred against him by his wife, Anastasia Kenkle. Frank, being unable to furnish the necessary security, was committed to jail.

Bounties and Increase of Pensions.—Mackrell & McCombs, 89 Grant street, will attend to the collection of the $100 bounty and the increase of pensions under the recent acts of Congress.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. jy11:d&w

LATE FOREIGN ADVICES.

Another Reform Meeting.

SUSPENSION OF THE HABEAS CORPUS ACT IN IRELAND.

Four Weeks Armistice Concluded.

BAVARIANS DEFEATED NEAR WURZBURG

Peace Looked Upon as Certain.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The steamer Java, with Liverpool dates of the 28th and Queenstown 29th, has arrived.

The working of the Atlantic cable with increasing speed, was noticed on the 28th.

There was no further disturbance of the peace in London, and a meeting in Hyde Park for the 30th was called, it is alleged by the consent of the Government, but the Ministers declared no such consent was given, and warned the League against holding the meeting. The League was determined to hold the meeting elsewhere, and the government assented to its being held at Primrose Hill, declaring that the Royal Parks should not be used until the question of right was settled.

The government had given notice in the House of Commons of the necessity for the removal of the suspension of the habeas corpus act in Ireland.

General Michael Gleson, of the United States army, has been released from the Dublin jail on condition of his leaving the country.

The truce expired on the 27th of July, but was prolonged to August 2d, and a four weeks armistice, commencing from the latter date, was concluded.

It is also announced that peace preliminaries had been signed, and reached Vienna for ratification by the Emperor of Austria.

The minor German States were not included in the armistice, and hostilities between them and Prussia continues.

The Bavarians were defeated by the Prussians near Wurzburg.

The suspension of hostilities by Austria and Italy commenced on the 25th. Peace is thought almost sure.

The following bulletin is posted in the Paris Bourse to-day: The plenipotentiaries of Prussia and Austria have signed an armistice for four weeks. Herr Gordien signed on behalf of Bavaria and other southwestern States.

The Italie, of Florence, states that negotiations for the conclusion of the armistice have led to a result satisfying the dignity and interests of Italy.

The same paper says: France has recognized the right of the inhabitants of Venetia to dispose of their own destiny.

Austria is said to have withdrawn her demands in reference to intervention on the part of the Catholic Powers in the Roman question.

The question of Tyrol is also reported satisfactorily settled. Peace negotiations take place directly between Italy, Austria, and Prussia.

THE CHOLERA.

Abatement of the Disease in New York—The Epidemic in Brooklyn—Forty-Two New Cases and Thirty-One Deaths in Cincinnati.

NEW YORK, August 9.—The bulletin of the Health Board showed a decrease in the number of cholera cases yesterday. Eleven cases and three deaths were reported for the twenty-four hours ending at 2 P. M. The reports from the hospitals also indicated an abatement of the disease. The mortuary report was concluded yesterday, and showed that over sixty per cent. of the total number of deaths were from zymotic diseases.

In Brooklyn the epidemic has not abated, but the number of deaths were not large. Twenty-three cases and five deaths were reported yesterday. On the Island the cholera continues to decrease, but communication was still restricted with them.

CINCINNATI, August 8.—There were thirty-one deaths by cholera yesterday, and forty-two new cases.

From Canada—Resignation of Mr. Galt.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The Tribune's Ottawa (C. W.) special says: Mr. Galt, Minister of Finance, has resigned. The alleged reason is a difference with his colleagues on the Lower Canada school question.

Parliament will be prorogued at the end of this week.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, August 8, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day were as follows: Gold, 148½; 1881s, 109¼; old 5-20s, 108⅝; new ditto, 108¼; 10-40s, 99¼; 7-30s, 104¾. Cleveland & Pittsburgh R R., 88⅛; Fort Wayne, 104⅛; Erie, 68¼; Michigan Southern, 84⅝; Western Union Telegraph, 57.

—The following comparative statement shows the average condition of the leading items of the Philadelphia Banks for the past and previous week:

| | Last week. | This week. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Capital | $64,642,150 | $64,642,150 | |
| Loans | 48,935,067 | 49,682,525 | Inc..$147,458 |
| Specie | 826,096 | 825,978 | Dec.. 118 |
| Legal-tend'rs | 20,993,376 | 20,393,826 | Dec..599,550 |
| Deposits | 37,270,885 | 37,245,034 | Dec.. 25,851 |
| Circulation | 9,472,473 | 9,518,724 | Inc.. 34,251 |

The above figures show little change from the returns of the previous week. The greatest difference is in the item of legal-tenders, which showed a decrease of $599,550. The loans and circulation each increased very little, and the specie and deposits each fell off slightly.

—The last published statement of the public debt is viewed on all sides as the most gratifying exhibit recently presented as showing a marked reduction in the amount of the national indebtedness. In the last two months the Secretary has been able to extinguish, by actual cash payments from his revenues, the large sum of thirty-seven millions. In the twelve months ending the 1st instant, he has extinguished one hundred and twenty-four millions. The present aggregate unprovided for is $2,633,000,000. Last summer, at its maximum, it was $2,757,000,000. The surplus revenues of the current fiscal year will, it is believed, further reduce the total below $2,500,000,000, of which about one fifth will be in the form of Treasury circulation and deposits free of interest (or nearly so) to the Government, leaving a funded debt of only two thousand millions to bear interest.

—The New York Herald contains the following:

"As considerable inquiry is making in regard to the conversion of seven-thirties into five twenties of 1865, it is proper to state, as we are able to do so on the best authority, that the Government is willing to receive in conversion the seven thirties falling due August 15, 1867."

—The Nork Journal of Commerce, of Saturday afternoon, says:

The defalcation referred to in this morning's paper, of which we were not then allowed to give particulars, is now made public. The defaulter is Isaac W. Dean, salesman for the New York Steam Sugar Refining Company, whose office is at 95 Wall street. The amount of the deficit, as far as can be ascertained, is a little below one hundred thousand dollars, but how much of this the company will lose is not yet known. By deliveries of sugar, collection of bills and borrowing of money, he was enabled to obtain funds not his own, and has probably spent most of the amount in personal extravagance and speculation. He has absconded, leaving an interesting wife and family of small children without any provision for their support. He had been with the company from boyhood, and possessed their entire confidence.

—The Cleveland Plaindealer gives the following in reference to the failure of a prominent cheese manufacturer:

The failure of Budlong, the extensive Geauga County cheese manufacturer, at Chardon, was announced on Wednesday. His liabilities amount to about $120,000. About three years ago Mr. Budlong came out to the Reserve, from New York, and established a cheese factory at Parkman, Geauga County, having previously contracted with the neighboring farmers to furnish their milk for the season, at 8½c per quart. Owing to the very heavy advance in cheese, Mr. B. was said to have cleared over $50,000 that season. During the past two years he has been a heavy manufacturer at Chardon, in the neighborhood of which he had purchased a large number of farms, stocking them with cows. He was connected with a New York house, under the style of Budlong & Stokes.

Mr. Budlong, during his residence in Geauga County, has been very public-spirited, and he has done much to awaken a business spirit in that region—particularly in Chardon, which place has resounded with bustle and stir for the past year or two.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, August 8, 1866.

There is but little that is new to say in regard to the produce markets. The movements in all of the leading commodities continue very much restricted, the demand being almost entirely local, while prices have undergone no essential change.

GROCERIES—The market for Groceries is steady and moderately active, while prices have undergone no material change. Sugar is quoted at 11½ for Molasses, 12½ to 13¼ for Cuba; 14 to 15 for Porto Rico, 18 to 18¼ for Crushed, and 16¼ to 17¼ for "A" and "B" Coffee. Molasses may be quoted at 85 for Porto Rico, and $1,15 to $1,20 for New Orleans. Coffee is held pretty firmly at 27 to 30, for fair to strictly prime. Rice, 11 to 11½.

GRAIN—Sale of 650 bush Club Wheat at $2,10, and 100 bush Winter at $2,50. Oats firm but unchanged at 53 to 55 for prime white, and 45 to 48 for Chicago; sale of 400 bushels "mixed," in elevator, at 53. Sale of 1 car Shelled Corn at 75. Western Rye is selling at 90, but prime State would probably bring a fraction more. Nothing doing in Barley.

FLOUR—Is quiet and without essential change. We continue to quote Spring Wheat at $10 to $10,25—choice brands at 10,50—half Spring and half Winter at $11 to 11,50; and Winter Wheat at $12 to 12,50. Sale of 100 bbls "City Mills Springfield" at $12,25; 50 do do, in lots, at $12,50, and 80 bbls "White Star" at $11. Rye Flour is selling at $6,25 to $6,50, and Cornmeal at $1.

PROVISIONS—Quiet and unchanged. Bacon is selling in a jobbing way at 17½ to 17¾ for Shoulders; 19½@20 for Ribbed Sides; 21 for Plain Hams, and 25@26 for Sugar Cured. Lard is firmer, owing to the advance in Butter, but unchanged at 21½@22. Mess Pork is quoted at $33,50.

CHEESE—We can report a sale of 100 boxes Western Reserve, to the trade, at 14¼. Hamburg is still quoted at 16@17, and Goshen at 20@21 cts.

APPLES—Market almost bare, and ripe fruit sells readily at $5 to $6 per bbl.

POTATOES—Quiet and unchanged. Small sales at from $2,75 to $3 per bbl.

ASHES—Quiet and unchanged. Sales of Soda at 6 for common, 6½ for Refined, and 15 for Pearls.

EGGS—Continue to arrive pretty freely, and with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, the market may be quoted weak at 18 to 20.

BUTTER—Packed Butter, in kegs, is wanted at 23 to 25, and but little offering. Fresh Butter may be quoted at 28 to 30.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, August 8, 1866.

CRUDE—The transactions in Crude were fair to-day, being about up to the usual average in the aggregate, but the market apparently was a little weak, as holders were more anxious to contract, which is a pretty good indication of a weak market. Prices, however, have undergone no material change one way or the other, thought buyers seem very sanguine of buying at a reduction, and that, too, within a very few days; while, on the other hand, sellers seem to entertain the opinion that present prices will be maintained. We can report sales of 700 bbls in bulk, on the spot, at 15¼; 600 do do, at 15½; 120, to arrive, at 15; 135 at 20, packages included; 500 do do, at 20, free on board cars; and 500, to arrive on first water, at 14½. The reports from Oil City to-day were again conflicting and unreliable, and consequently, we omit them.

REFINED—There was but very little inquiry for bonded oil to-day, and the market was dull and a little weak, with a drooping tendency. One party informed us that he offered two lots of oil for August and September delivery in Philadelphia, at a reduction from yesterday's figures, and met with no response; while another party received a telegram quoting at 44 for August, and 44 to 44½ for September, which figures are up to any obtained this week. On Tuesday evening, there was a sale of 1500 bbls for November at 45, and 1000 for October at 44½. From the sales and quotations above noted, it will be seen that the general tone of the market was not very satisfactory, owing to a lack of confidence on the part of operators in the east, and there seems to be a determined disposition on the part of these parties to force a reduction in prices. Possibly they may not be able to succeed, but, judging from present indications, it seems altogether likely that they will be able to accomplish their purpose.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil by the Allegheny river since our last report, were as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| S. Harbaugh & Co. | 43 | W. P. Logan | 150 |
| Ecky & Robbins | 32 | W. Mackeown | 16 |

Flour and Grain in Store in Chicago.

The following table, compiled from the official reports of the warehousemen to the Secretary of the Board of Trade, shows the amount of Flour and Grain in store in Chicago on the 4th inst., compared with the amount in store on the same day last year:

| | 1865. | 1866. |
|---|---|---|
| Flour | 5,848 | 15,880 |
| Wheat | 833,221 | 292,448 |
| Corn | 465,625 | 1,043,578 |
| Oats | 201,776 | 487,128 |
| Rye | 20,779 | 97,431 |
| Barley | 56,308 | 49,881 |

Cincinnati Iron Market.

CINCINNATI, August 7.—The market for pig iron has ruled quiet during the greater portion of the week; holders, however, are very firm in their views, and indifferent about selling, except at full rates, and prices were sustained. We quote hot blast at $47@49 per ton for mill iron, and $50@53 for No. 1. Tennessee cold blast is selling at $52@55 per ton, and Missouri at $55@60. Car wheel iron is quoted at $70, with small transactions at this rate. Bar iron is steady at 5¼@5½c per lb for common and charcoal. Horse shoes are quoted at 9@9½c per lb, and mule shoes at 9@9½c for Shoenberger's extra.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, August 7.—The receipts are liberal but consist principally of the low and medium grades. The wet and disagreeable weather restricts outdoor operations. Sales that have been made are fully up to previous figures. Choice cargoes are in demand and firm, but the offerings are light. Shingles are in fair request. Round lots of A sawed are about $5, and smaller quantities at $5,12½@5,25.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, August 8.

The supply of Capital at this point continues to accumulate, and is once more starting speculation at the Stock Exchange. The demand is quite moderate and readily met at 4@5 per cent. on call, while the Government bankers are offered large sums at 3 per cent. The discount market is very quiet, owing to the scarcity of business. Proper prime names pass at 5½@6½ per cent. The letter of the New York bankers and merchants to the Secretary of the Treasury is universally condemned in financial circles, and the principles contained therein regarded as false and detrimental to the public credit. It is generally regarded as a great piece of impudence, as many of the signers are known to be interested in the fall of gold.

The Gold market closed up firmly at 148¾. The speculative and custom demand has been more lively to-day. Exchange dull. The business in Government Securities has been heavy during the day, and there was a further advance in prices towards the close. The demand has run chiefly on 1881 coupons and the five-twenties of 1862 and 1865. The following were the closing prices at 4:30 P. M.: Coupons of 1881, 109½@110½; Five-twenties do, 1865, 108¼@108⅜; 10-40 Coupons, 99¼@99½; July 7-30's, 104¾@104⅞. The stock market at the last open board was a little off from the highest point of the day, but there was no pressure to sell. There has been a general increase in the volume of business to-day, with an upward movement in prices. The bull interest is in the ascendant once more, and the indications are favorable to a further improvement in values. The ease in money enables speculators to carry stock without any difficulty, and hence there are no large blocks offering.

The Post's money article says: The Gold market is strong and advanced under the decline in 5-20s in London. The money market is extremely easy. The stock market opened with spirit, and Railway shares advanced. At 1:45 P. M., New York Central was quoted at 1,04⅛; Erie, 68⅛; Hudson River, 1,21; Reading, 1,12¼.

The Commercial's money article says: The stock market exhibits a sharp reactionary movement after the late brief depression. The decline has enabled some of the leading operators to buy in at a lower price, and those who were the leaders in the long interest are this morning the largest purchasers. The extreme ease of money enables operators to carry any amount of stock that they may desire to hold, and the continued earnings of the Roads with the prospects of unusually heavy freights of breadstuffs, resulting from a liberal harvest, encourages the strong bullish tone of the market. Government stocks continue active and firmer. Money is very plenty, and the prevailing rate is 4@5 per cent., but exceptional transactions of large amounts are done at 3 per cent., in Government. Collateral discounts continue quiet, owing to the extreme scarcity of paper. The rate for prime names is 5@6½ per cent. Foreign Exchange is nominal at about the rates of yesterday.

Gold closed at 148⅝. Western Union Telegraph, 56¾; Mariposa preferred, 27¾; New York Central, 104⅛; Erie, 68⅛; Erie preferred, 75; Hudson, 120; Michigan Southern, 85⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88; Cleveland & Toledo, 116⅛; Chicago & Rock Island, 107½; Toledo & Wabash, 42; Chicago and North Western, 33¼; do. preferred, 63⅛; Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago, 105⅛.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Cotton dull and easier, at 35@37c for middling uplands and Orleans. Flour more active, but prices without decided change, at $8,00@9,30 for extra R. H. O., and $9,40@11,25 for trade brands; the market closing steady. Whisky dull and nominal. Wheat—The receipts were 225 bushels; market dull and drooping for inferior, and rather more steady for sound; sales—7,000 bushels of Chicago spring, at $1,40; 7,000 bushels of new No. 1 Milwaukee, at $2,00. Rye heavy; western sic. Corn—Receipts 23,304 bushels; market about 1c better; sales of 175,000 bushels, at 78@79½ for inferior, 80@81c for shipping mixed western, chiefly 80½ for the latter, and 90c for western yellow. Oats—Receipts 28,256 bushels; market more active and rather steady; sales—75,000 bushels, at 35@42½c for Chicago; 43@44c for Milwaukee, and 50@54c for Iowa. Petroleum dull, at 27c for crude, and 44c for refined in bond. Coffee dull. Sugar very quiet; Cuba 9½@10½c. Molasses quiet; Porto Rico, 60@70c. Coal quiet, and prices nominally the same. Leather—Hemlock sales continue active, at advancing prices; we quote 33@34c for Buenos Ayres, light weight; 35½@36c for middling do; 35@38c for heavy do; 34@35c for California, light do; 34@35c for middling do, and 34@36c for heavy do. Wool without decided change. Pork steady, at $31,62@31,81 for new mess, closing at $31,75, regular; $29,50@30,00 for old do, and $27,00@27,75 for prime; and to government 1,000 barrels of new mess, at $32,45, and 800 barrels of prime mess, at $31,40@31,75. Beef unchanged. Beef hams nominal. Cut meats firm, at 15@16½c for shoulders, and 19½@21c for hams. Bacon dull. Lard firmer, at 19@21½c. Butter quiet, at 30@35c for Ohio, and 27@40c for State. Cheese quiet at 9@15c.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, August 8.—Flour, spring extra $8,75@9,25; white western $11,50@13,50. Wheat is held at about $1,77@1,80 for No. 1 Milwaukee. Corn; the sales this morning amount to 18,500 bushels, at 67@67½ for No. 2, and 68 for No. 1, including 7,800 bush. No. 1 at 68½. The afternoon sales amounted to 23,000 bush., at 67@67½ for No. 1 and 68 for No. 2. Oats; the sales this morning were 60,000 bush., at 49 for Green Bay, 27@29 for damaged Chicago, and 34@35 for good do. Afternoon sales—5,000 bush. Chicago No. 1 at 35. Barley and Rye nominal. Pork $33. Lard 21@21½. Whisky nominal.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, August 8.—Flour steady. Wheat is very dull at $1,45@1,46 for No. 1. Corn moderately active at 57@57½ for No. 1 and 55@55½ for No. 2. Oats firm and advanced 1@2c; sales at 27@28. Provisions dull; Mess Pork $32,50@32,75. Freights steady. Receipts—2700 barrels Flour; 8,000 bushels Wheat; 46,000 bush. Corn; 4,000 bush. Oats. Shipments—900 bbls Flour; 3,900 bush. Wheat; 58,000 bush. Corn; 46,000 bush. Oats.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The market is very quiet. Prints—Amoskeag, 17; Cocheco, 20; Empire, 12½; Hamilton, 19; London Mourning, 17½; Merrimac, D, 20; do W, 21; Pacific, 19. Sheeting and Shirting, bleached—Canoe, 13½; Columbia, A, 19; James, 28½; Lonsdale, 33; Manville, 24; Masonville, 33. Drills, brown—Boot Mills, 25; Globe, 22; Stark, H, 21.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues cloudy and unsettled with a slight sprinkling of rain at intervals, and slight hopes of a rise in our rivers are entertained. At the main landing business is entirely suspended.

The little Arkansas River steamer Fort Smith, is receiving freight with the understanding, we presume, that she will leave on the first water.

Mr. C. D. Millar, the veteran river editor, and now one of the proprietors of the Cincinnati Commercial, was in the city during Monday and Tuesday. He was accompanied by Capt. F. Y. Batchelor, of the Cincinnati and Memphis Packet Co., and both gentlemen, who have been on a pleasure excursion, left for Cincinnati on Tuesday night.

Capt. Isaac Whittaker, of the Arkansas River packet Guidon, is in the city on visit to his friends, as is also, Mr. John Wherry, clerk of the Kate Robinson. Capt. Whittaker informs us that the Guidon has been awarded the contract for carrying the mails between Memphis and Pine Bluff. Mr. Wherry has been in the east for some weeks past.

The Dubuque papers say that the action of the crews on the packets above that point in striking for wages when they did, at a time when it was more profitable to lay up the boats than to run them, has driven them to employ other means for help. At the commencement of the strike, an agent was dispatched to Cincinnati to see what arrangements could be made there in securing colored crews. Superintendent Wellington received a dispatch from Capt. Newton informing him that he would leave Cincinnati with three hundred negroes, to take the place of the strikers. The strike was for an advance of from fifty to sixty dollars a month.

The Parkersburg, (W. Va.,) Times has the following: Charles Rosh, aged 28 years, a deck hand on the steamer Pine Grove, died from sickness, and was burried on the arrival of the steamer at this place last Saturday. His residence not being known, we give this information in order that his relatives, in case he has any, may become informed of it.

We take following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday:

Captain James Batchelor has returned to the city after several weeks of rustication on the Lakes......Mr. Jas. K. Cullum, a well-known second clerk on the river, died in this city on Sunday morning of Asiatic cholera. His funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon, was attended by a large number of his friends......One item of the W. F. Curtis' cargo is 1500 sacks wheat......The Shamrock has been chartered to run in the Maysville trade in place of the Magnolia, during low water......The Lorena will drop down to the landing this morning, and will follow the Silver Cloud to New Orleans.

Spring and Summer Medicine.

FLUID EXTRACT

SARSAPARILLA,

COMBINED WITH

Iodide of Lime,

PREPARED FOR

G. W. PETTES, BOSTON,

BY

James R. Nichols & Co.,

MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,

MANUFACTURERS OF THE

ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK

WITH

Protoxide of Iron,

Which has become so favorably known as a

Tonic and Restorative,

By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME," presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to the syrup, encountered. In White Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

In the Spring of the Year, and during the Warm Weather,

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

Alterative, or Blood Purifier,

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination, in no respect resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all first-class Druggists.

PRO BO NO PUBLICO.

Yet they say 'tis a heinous crime the way business is conducted. Some say it is murdering the trade. Others say it is against his own interests. We don't believe it. Let us see what the true state of affairs is. The truth is this: That there is a new establishment, neatly fitted up, at No. 87 Market street, Pittsburgh, over which W. G. MAHAFFEY presides, and in which boots and shoes are sold at prices so low as to astonish the natives. Hear me while I give you the prices of a few articles, while all other articles are sold correspondingly low. Ladies' Congress Lasting gaiters selling at $1.50; Ladies' Sewed Morocco Boots at $2.00; Men's Congress Lasting Gaiters at $2.00; Children's Slippers at 50c; Children's Morocco Shoes at 60c. A large lot of gent's prime fine calf balmorals and gaiters just received and selling exceedingly low. In addition to this he keeps any article in the boot or shoe line, and manufactures to order Ladies' Congress lasting gaiter morocco boot, ladies' and gentlemen's fancy cloth embroidered slippers. Likewise gent's first class calf boots made to order $1.50 lower than any other first class house in the city. Lasts fit up to suit the feet, which we would advise every man to have of his own. Ladies and gent's fancy cloth slipper uppers, silk embroidered, for sale. Wherein consists the crime. If in selling low, we plead guilty; and by selling low we expect to preserve our own interests, and make quick sales and many of them. Inviting you to call and see for yourselves we leave the subject with you.

W. G. MAHAFFEY.

All Diseases of the Lungs

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.

PITTSBURGH, January 11, 1863.

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought, the first time, a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself for a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

PITTSBURGH, April 21, 1857.

READ THE TRUTH.—DR. KEYSER:—I have a daughter who has taken several medicines for a bad cough without benefit, among them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I purchased from you a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, and before she had used half a bottle she was relieved. The second bottle cured her entirely of her cough.

JOHN DARIS,
Robinson street, Allegheny.

PITTSBURGH, December 31,

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—I live in Peebles township, Allegheny county. I had a cough and spitting, which commenced about the 4th of February last, and continued eight months. I employed the best physicians in the country, and my cough continued unabated until early in October. At that time I was advised to try your Pectoral Cough Syrup, which I did, and after I had taken one bottle I was entirely free from the coughing and spitting. I had despaired of ever getting well, and I think it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done in my case.

JOHN C. LITTLE,
Witness: R. M. KERR. Peebles township.

PATTON TOWNSHIP, April 14, 1863.

A WONDERFUL CURE.—Some time ago an old neighbor of mine was very ill with a bad cough, which every one supposed to be consumption. His relatives told me that he had taken every remedy they heard of without benefit. His brother came to see him die, and all were confirmed in the belief that he could not live. I had about the third of a bottle of your Pectoral syrup, which I gave him, and it entirely cured him, to the astonishment of all. What makes the case more remarkable, is the extreme age of the man, he being about eighty years old. I have no doubt the Pectoral saved his life.

JOHN McGINNIS.

DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP IN BLAIRSVILLE.—Please send me another supply of your valuable Pectoral Syrup. Almost everybody around us has the cold, and are enquiring for "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup." We have sold sixteen bottles the last week, and are now entirely out. Mr. A. Alter and Mr. P. Maher, both of Blairsville, Pa., told us they would not be without it in their families. In fact, all who use it once want it again.

Yours, respectfully,
J. S. WATTERSON & SONS.

January 30, 1860.

PITTSBURGH, November 10, 1859.

DR. KEYSER:—Although not an advocate of Patent Medicines, in general, it affords me pleasure to describe to recommend your PECTORAL SYRUP. As a medicine, it is well worthy the attention of any person, who may in any manner be afflicted with coughs, colds and hoarseness of any kind, and for the peculiar qualifications for removing all that disagreeable sensation attending a severe cold.

I have been, more or less in my life, affected with the severest of colds and hoarseness. At times my throat would become so closed as to prevent my speaking above a whisper, and by taking a few doses of the above Syrup it would relieve me entirely.

In recommending this medicine, I must unhesitatingly say that it is the best remedy I ever found, purporting to cure the above, nor should any family be without this remedy for diseases so prevalent.

Yours, most respectfully,
EDWARD J. JONES,
Cashier Citizens' Deposit Bank.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, March 16, 1859.

I have used Dr. Keyser's cough syrup for a bad cough of several years standing, and can truly say it is the best medicine for the [illegible] I have ever taken.

J. W. CHILDS.

COL. PRATT AND DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—DR. KEYSER:—Dear sir, Excuse me for [illegible] of my acknowledging the excellence of your Pectoral Cough Syrup sooner. I take great pleasure in saying that it is all you say it is. It knocked the noise out of my cough, and the worst one I was ever afflicted with. I have not used more than one-third of a bottle, and I can and do wish that every one afflicted would give it as fair a trial as I have done, and they will be proud to say, "It is no quack medicine." I would not suffer another such an attack for any consideration, or at any cost. I am confident I can breathe more freely than I ever did. I shall always acknowledge a debt of gratitude for inventing so excellent a remedy. You are at liberty to use my name in this regard as you think proper.

(Signed) R. F. PRATT,
Messenger Common Council, Pittsburgh, Pa.

N. B.—I am no stranger to my fellow-citizens, and all who entertain doubts can consult me personally. R. F. P.

ANOTHER NEW CERTIFICATE.—DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—I had been troubled with a cough and cold for several weeks—so bad was it that I could not sleep. I had the advice and prescriptions from three of the best physicians in the city, whom I could name, but no cure. I then procured a bottle of your Pectoral syrup, which cured me entirely.

J. W. SIMONTON,
No. 246 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

January 9th, 1860.

"STOP THAT COUGHING."—"How can I do it?" Go to Keyser's, on Wood street, and get a bottle of his Cough Pectoral, and if that don't cure you, your case must be desperate indeed." This is a specimen of the colloquy one hears every day in cold-catching periods of the year. "And we can, from actual experiment, cheerfully concur in the adviser's admonition as above, for we have tried the "Pectoral," in a most stubborn case, with entire success. Just two weeks ago we went to Pittsburgh, with one of the most distressing, contrary, mulish, unsubduable coughs we ever experienced since our advent upon this mundane sphere. We coughed steadily and laboriously for one whole week, in hopes of tiring it out, but it was no go. In fact, it seemed rather to have improved by practice, and to have acquired strength, potency and distressibility by the operation. In this stage of the siege, we sought our way to Keyser's, No. 140 Wood st., procured a fifty cent bottle of the "Pectoral," took it according to directions, and in forty-eight hours we were master of the field, the enemy having unconditionally surrendered, after a brief, but unequal conflict with so formidable an adversary as Keyser's famous Cough Pectoral.—Brownsville Clipper, Dec. 14, 1859.
